THE CAREERS &
ENTERPRISE
COMPANY

Schools, colleges and businesses are now working together on a national scale and are highly engaged.

- 1 | A strengthened careers education system is emerging - 4,000 schools and colleges engaged in the careers education network – 81 per cent of the state funded sector.
- 2 | Schools and colleges are highly engaged with four in five school and colleges driving performance against the Gatsby Benchmarks
- 3 | More employers than ever before are now involved with young people – 94% of large employers have links with schools, colleges and universities.

- 4 | 82% of business leaders believe it is important for employers to work with young people in schools and colleges to inspire and inform them about the world of work.
- 5 | 260 major employers - Cornerstones – and 3,600 Enterprise Advisers, senior business professionals, are working with schools and colleges across the country.

White Paper's focus on careers education

Frameworks and infrastructure

- Gatsby Benchmarks remain the framework for good career guidance
- Roll-out of Careers Hubs, Enterprise Adviser Network and high-quality Careers Leader Training
- Emphasis on data as vital in careers information and guidance

Accountability

- The age range of the duty on schools to provide independent careers guidance has lowered, requiring schools to offer this support from Year 7
- A three-point-plan to enforce the Baker Clause
- Ofsted to undertake a thematic review across England, to provide an up-to-date assessment of careers guidance in schools and colleges and provide recommendations to improve practice

Quality and consistency

- Proposal to build careers awareness into every stage of teachers' professional development, from initial training to education leadership
- Alignment between CEC and National Careers Service
- National Careers Service website to become a single source of government-assured careers information for young people

The importance of a careers community

Each and every opportunity

From the sparks of a conversation & signposting

To planned pastoral preparation

To embedding careers across the curriculum

To high quality encounters and experiences

To effective small group and personal guidance

To a world class careers guidance programme

Enables us to give each and every young person their game plan
